

Hi Kartheek,

Thank you for providing us with a fantastic cybersecurity market intelligence report in April 2023. The report was provided quickly and covers all the key areas that show an indepth understanding of the market. The level of detail and coverage in the report is impressive. We have used the report to shape our global go-to-market value proposition for a multi-billion dollar business unit. The feedback from the team has been really positive. It is wonderful to see regional teams building the market intelligence into their own presentations. This is proof in itself on the quality of the report. Thank you again.

Kindest regards

Lawrence
